New Ambassadors at Capital.

Two interesting new diplomats, both from northern Europe, and both men of affairs in the world, have been added to the corps in Washington. Already they have taken prominent position in the social and official life of the capital. Both are accompanied by charming wives, one of whom is a former Boston girl.

They are Herman de Lagererantz, minister from Sweden, who presented his credentials originally in the spring of 1907, and Count Carl von Moltke, the newly appointed minister from Denmark, who is a descendant of the famous field marshal of that name, and whose wife was Miss Cornelia Thayer of the Thayer family of Massachusetts. He has just been joined by the countess.

The new ministers have taken adjoining homes in the double Henderson house, one of the most attractive structures in the fashionable residential sections of Sixteenth street. They have established their legations and the flags of Denmark and Sweden fly side by side.

Washington Awaiting "Bud."

Everybody in Washington is more or less openly on the qui vive concerning the presentation of Miss Williams, who, rumor has it, will have a tremendous advantage over her sister buds by reason of the valiant backing she will get from Mrs. "Joe" Letter, who comes before the world this year as a dashing and attractive young matron and the chateleine of the old Letter homestead, made famous by its record of titled marriages.

Almond Is in Favor.

Mrs. Wu, wife of Wu Ting Fang, has made almonds popular by serving almond cakes, with almond wine and almond flowers for table decorations.

As the table decorations are not so easily attainable, artificial ones are used quite frequently, and may be obtained from the Chinese stores.

Cook's Sudden Popularity.

Marie Canale, a Parisian cook, has won a $50,000 prize in a lottery. Within half an hour after her good fortune became known she had two proposals of marriage and a suggestion to elope.

Washington a High Mason.

Washington was made a Mason in 1753, and attained a higher dignity in the order than any of the other presidents, though Andrew Jackson was grand master of Tennessee, the state which now holds one of the highest Masons in this country, ex-Congressman Richardson.

Too Much for Man.

A Kansas gas man who has spent years in the business makes the statement that natural gas is capricious and that men who have studied it all their lives give up in despair when it comes to explaining the whys and wherefores of some of its ways.

Public Notice
To Intermarried White Citizens of the Cherokee Nation:

Section 8 of the act of congress approved May 29, 1908, authorizes the Secretary of the Interior to pay from Cherokee tribal funds to intermarried white citizens of the Cherokee tribe placed on the final approved rolls the share or shares of the Cherokee Nation to which they are entitled on account of payments heretofore made to Cherokee citizens, but in which payments said intermarried white citizens did not participate.

The law further provides that the Cherokee Nation shall have the right to protest against the payment of any claim, and upon protest being filed, the claim of such person or persons shall be referred to the court of claims.

In order that claims arising under this law may be properly considered, all duly enrolled intermarried white Cherokees now living should file their written claim to share in the Cherokee funds at once with the United States Indian Agent, Union Agency, Muskogee, Oklahoma. Applications covering shares of deceased claimants should be made by the administrator or other legal representative, and all claims hereunder should be submitted to the undersigned prior to March 1, 1908.

DANA H. KELLEY,
United States Indian Agent,
Union Agency, Muskogee, Oklahoma,
January 30, 1908.
